ALMA

Mexican Mission. For 10 days before Christmas, the people held the traditional Posada celebration, consisting of a procession every evening followed by recitation of the Rosary. The final celebration on Christmas Eve was followed by Midnight Mass in the Mission Chapel.

The E. San Antonio Center will soon be re-opened and a new center will begin to operate near Cunningham Road, in an area where three-fourths of the people are fallen-aways.

Mr. James Sweeters is now assistant director of the catechists. Present teachers at the Chapel are Messrs. Edmund Robinson (Ore.), Armand Nigro (Ore.), and James Rasura; at E. San Antonio, Mr. Donald Kolda; at Felipe Street, Messrs. Vincent Mooney (N.Y.), and Patrick Schallert.

Varia. Mr. William Phipps and Mr. David Fitch were commentators over station KSJO, San Jose, for the Christmas Midnight Mass. Arrangements for the broadcast were made by Fr. Twigg-Porter.

The Alma Christmas Committee—Messrs. John Enright, Eugene Toner (Ore.), and Arthur Besse (Chi.)—did a splendid job of making the holidays enjoyable for everyone in the house.

Christmas morning a choir from Alma sang at Agnew State Hospital, performing the Proper of the Mass at High Mass and caroling at Low Mass. Singers were Messrs. Theodore Taheny, James Duffy (Chi.), James Rollins, James Felt, and Carroll Laubacher.

The new officers are: Beadle, Mr. John Becker; Sub-beadle, Mr. Vernon Harkins (Ore.); choir-director, Mr. Walter Leedale (Ore.).

Laden with gifts, Kris Kringle visited Alma late Christmas morning. Certain skeptics remarked what a striking resemblance Santa bore to Mr. John Shanks.

Fr. Terrence O'Connor arranged an exhibit of modern church art and architecture in the Library seminar rooms during and after the Christmas vacation. The works had previously been shown in the De Young Museum, San Francisco.

Fr. Adam C. Ellis (Mo.), noted canonist who taught Canon Law here last semester, left Alma January 5 to return to St. Mary's, Kansas.

A party for the neighborhood children who attend catechism here on Sundays was held in the classroom building January 10. Fr. George Purdy (Ore.) was in charge.

A group of pre-Dominican students and other members of the Priestly Vocation Club at St. Mary's College, Moraga, visited Alma January 16 and were entertained by Frs. Thomas Byrne, John Mylott and John Dryden.

BELLARMINE

Activities. The Bellarmine Alumni, under the direction of Fr. Clement Conway, held a successful dinner-dance at the Hawaiian Gardens, San Jose.

The Bellarmine Guild and the Dads Club are sponsoring the annual Golden Bell dinner-dance at the Gymnasium, which will be professionally decorated for the occasion. Advance sale of tickets, at $50.00 a couple, indicate an attendance of at least 400.

Sodality. Fr. Edwin McDermott gave a day of recollection to the Sodality on January 14.

The Apostolic Committee of the Sodality, under Mr. Gerald Cooney, has supplied 42 teachers each week to the various mission areas in the San Jose region.

Community. Fr. Gerald Flynn has been very active in the nearby parishes. During January and February he will give a series of talks at St. Lucy's, Campbell. He presented the Forty Hours at St. Mary's.

Mr. Charles Koch, of Loyola, has come to Bellarmine to teach Chemistry, to relieve Fr. John O'Neill who has been ill.

Sports. Al Francis, the Examiner's choice for the outstanding lineman in Northern California, has received a four-year scholarship to Notre Dame. It is valued at $6,000.

BROPHY

Improvements. The Christmas holidays brought many improvements in the school. With the completion of their classrooms, the grammar school moved from the first floor of our building, and Fr. Eugene Schallert, with the help of many of the students and Dads, put in hours of improving our facilities. One classroom has been changed into a student store, cared for by Fr. Herman Wondra. The Equipment Room of former days has once more been put to its original use, with cabinets built by the students and faculty. What was a washroom is now a dressing room for the students. Located in the shower room is a new GE washer and dryer, the gift of the Mothers' Club. They will be used to take care of athletic laundry.

Dads. At the December meeting of the Dads' Club, the students presented a variety of entertainment. Sunday, December 20, was a Dads-Sons Communion Breakfast. The attendance was good, and the occasion was used for the awarding of blocks to the football team.

Mothers. The Mothers' Club, with Fr. Wondra as moderator, sponsored a dinner-dance on Sunday, Dec. 27. The music was arranged for by one of the Dads, who provided the orchestra.

Speech. Fr. James Devlin conducted the annual Freshman Elocution Contest, December 21. Plans are now being made for the Sophomore oratorical contest.

Sodality. A section of the Sodality meet Sunday afternoons. Fr. Arthur Rutledge, director, conducts the business and spiritual meeting at this time. The second half of the recent meetings, he has devoted to a study of the early missions of the Society in the Far East.

Fr. Rector. Fr. Principal (Frank Harrington) gave a talk to the assembled members of the Phoenix CYO at the group's annual ceremony of installation.

Fr. Rector attended the Principals' Meeting in San Francisco. Following the meeting he gave the year-end retreat of the Sisters in Gilroy.

CHINA MISSION

Taipei. The Solemn Midnight Mass at Beda Tsang Hall was attended by Catholic students and a large group of catechumens more than filling the chapel.

The friends here gave the community so many large cakes with "Merry Christmas" written on them and so many baskets of oranges that they would have lasted for weeks were we not able to re-send them to some poor families and to some patients in the University Hospital.

Fr. Edmund Fitzgerald is busy preparing his lectures in Sanitary Engineering which are to begin at the University Medical College. He has been given a large office. Most of his day will be taken up with his work there. Fr. Fitzgerald makes the tenth Jesuit now on the staff of the Taiwan National University.

On January 1, the titular feast of the Society, His Excellency, the Most Reverend Antony Riberi, Internuncio, had dinner with us.

Fr. Frank Moore, now stationed with the Army in Japan, arrived on a surprise visit, January 5. He was able to spend a short time at the mission in Hsinchu before his scheduled return flight to Tokyo, January 8.

The Sodality inaugurated the Legion of Decency here and received strong support from secular newspapers.

The church here in Taipei and all the Jesuit churches in the Hsinchu district are helping in the distribution of powdered milk received from U.S. Catholic Welfare.

Hsinchu. In order to acquaint the people with meaning of Christmas three large signs depicting scenes of the Nativity were hung on the sides of the mission building. Big crowds stopped to observe and read explanations. Outside the Land Bank in the center of the city a Christmas crib was put on display. Fr. Philip Bourret set up an amplfier set which played Christmas carols for over twelve hours a day.

Huge crowds attended the Solemn High Mass at Midnight and a second Solemn High Mass on Christmas night.

Fr. Bourret conducted two showings of the film, "Christ the King," for catechumens and others showing interest in religion.

Since the policy has been adopted in the Hsinchu District of not admitting persons to Baptism until they have completed a full year of instruction there will not be any large numbers of Baptisms until around March.

A third Missionary Sister of the Holy Ghost is soon expected to arrive from Japan to join the two German Sisters who set up a foundation in Hsinchu City last December.

There is a search for property on which to build the church and central residence in Hsinchu.

AZUZA

During the three weeks following Christmas, activity at Manresa has been almost exclusively along material lines, with no week-end retreats. The old dining room has been completely altered and more than doubled in size by the elimination of a wall, which allowed the incorporation of the old reading room into the dining room. When the first retreat began the evening of Jan. 21, all the retreatants were delighted at the size and beauty of the room, with the walls still the same light green and the mirror panels still preserved, though moved to new walls.

Meanwhile the new chapel is fast nearing completion with only the altar still to be installed. The ceiling of the chapel is a deep black, the walls a brilliant white, relieved here and there around the altar by finishing brick. The floor is a deep red, made of bricks laid on edge. The altar itself will be of polished black granite and is the gift of Ramon Novarro. Fourteen simple black crosses on the white walls represent the Stations. The old chapel—once a very commodious large library of the MacNeil family—will be returned to its function as a lounge or reading room.

On January 19 ground was blessed and broken for the new hermitages by Father Connolly. There will be twenty new units rising on the higher ground behind the main building. The work should be completed in about three months and then Manresa can boast of one of the finest and best equipped retreat houses in America.

EL RETIRO

Fr. Maher. Fr. Zacheus Maher, recovered from his recent illness, will soon return to El Retiro.

Mission Band. The first retreats of 1954 were conducted at El Retiro by Frs. James Rooney, Giambastiani, and John Brolan, respectively.

Fr. Brolan and Fr. Joseph Dondero gave their latest missions at Phoenix. Both of the fathers gave the annual school retreat at Marin Catholic High School.

Fr. Giambastiani gave the talk at the Holy Name Breakfast at St. Martin's Church, San Jose.

Retreats. Fr. Eugene Toner gave the retreats of the clergy of the Tucson Diocese.

Fr. Cornelius O'Meara made his annual retreat at Sacred Heart Novitiate.

Within recent weeks, among those priests who made their retreats at El Retiro were Frs. Rocatti, Rudolph Rigo, John Geary, John Lipman, and John Cosgrave.

JAPAN

(From a letter sent by Fr. Thomas Hand, now stationed at the language school at Eiko Gakuen.)

"(At Hiroshima) Fr. Hugo LaSalle, who has been in charge of the business, took me out to see the property for the new school. It is not really ours yet. Father hopes and expects that the final transfer will be made this month. If all goes well, the opening date of April, 1955 (school year begins in April over here) will be realized. The actual building will not take too long. The property is pretty good-sized for a school over here (close to nine acres) and is quite level. Looks like room for an adequate playfield as well as plenty of space for buildings. It is a 10-15 minute walk from an electric car line. This is important because these lines are the main arteries of local transportation. In general, the district is supposed to be building up with pretty good residences. The place was suggested by the mayor of Hiroshima, who is very interested in the project. Not far away is the school of the Notre Dames Sisters. Their school is only four years old and very successful (about 650 students, and more clamoring to get in)."

On Christmas Eve, Fr. Hand received two postulates for a convent of Mexican missionary Sisters in Shimonoseki. Before the midnight Mass, he assisted in baptizing a group of 17 women. Both ceremonies were in Japanese—a sort of baptism for Fr. Hand also.

At the Pontificial Mass on the occasion of Cardinal Spellman's visit to the naval base at Yokosuka, Mr. Horton directed the choir and Mr. Mason played the organ. After a buffet luncheon following the Mass, they went out to the Essex to assist the Cardinal in conferring Confirmation. Mr. Mason also directed a choir for Christmas Mass at the Oppama Navy Repair Depot. Mr. Becka was sub-deacon at Camp McGill.

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY

University Chapel. Father Rector (Charles Casassa) officiated at the blessing of the chapel organ and chimes. The blessing was followed by an organ recital by John Lee. The university chorus also participated and pleased the hundreds of friends and alumni who attended.

Education. Fr. Darrell Finnegan was the chairman of the hospitality committee for the Awards Banquet of the National Vocational Guidance Association.

The Guidance Center has completed the necessary testing and will begin its counseling program. The first school to be visited will be Loyola High School.

Fr. Finnegan gave a very stimulating address to a doctoral seminar group at UCLA. The title of his discourse was "The Metaphysical, Epistemological, and Axiological Foundations of Catholic Philosophy of Education." The last group consisted of the heads of the meat departments for Von's Inc.

Members of the Education Department attended the Regional Conference of the Far Western Philosophers of Education Society.

Fr. Finnegan addressed a large gathering of undergraduate students in the education department of UCLA. His topic was "The Place of Parochial Schools in American Democracy."

Industrial Relations. Fr. William McIntosh participated in a Seminar on Human Relations, sponsored by the United States Steel Workers of America. The seminar was held at the Arrowhead Springs Hotel.

The labor school will offer special courses this semester for employees of Douglas Aircraft.

Fr. McIntosh took part in the meeting of the California Chapter of the Council of Profit Sharing Industry. He was on the panel of commnication.

English. Francis Carothers of the English department presented his doctoral dissertation to the University of Southern California and received his degree. The title of the dissertation was "The Development of Shelley Criticism."

Frank Sullivan, English professor on leave of absence, wrote recently and told of his visit to Shakespeare's birthplace.

Deaf Society. Fr. Vincent Burnier of Brazil, the only living deaf priest in the world, visited the university. He later celebrated Mass for the Catholic deaf of Los Angeles at Loyola High School.

Law Institute. The second Archdiocesan Natural Law Institute, sponsored by Cardinal McIntyre under the auspices of Loyola Law School, was held at the Ambassador. Hon. Edward Dore of New York, spoke on "Climate of Current Opinion and the Author of the Natural Law." Members of the faculty including Frs. Roland Reed, James Corbett, Ralph Moholy, and Mr. George Azis, attended the gathering.

Meetings. Fr. Clyde Werts and Mr. Michael Torrano were present at the joint meeting of the Institute of Radio Engineers and American Institute of Electrical Engineers. John Mullen, graduate of Santa Clara and now with Bing Crosby Enterprises, described a method for recording television programs on magnetic tape instead of on film.

Fr. Joseph Brusher gave the invocation at the recent gathering of the Beverly Hills Chapter of the American Association for the United Nations.

Fr. Vincent McGinty assisted the Catholic Alumni Club in arranging their lecture series. Father gave the first lecture entitled, "St. Thomas's Answer to Secularism."

———o———

MT. ST. MICHAELS

Visitors. Mr. Bernard Gallagher, local attorney and Gonzaga grad, Jan. 10, spoke on the subject: "A Catholic in Politics." Mr. Gallagher is a member of the Washington House of Representatives.

Fr. Adam Ellis (Mo.), the same week, told the Scholastics about the inception of the Review For Religious, of which he is the founder. He exhorted the men who have the ability to write because of the power of the apostolate of the pen.

Mr. Glen Michaels, budding young concert pianist, home on vacation from Yale Conservatory of Music, gave a piano recital in the refectory, Jan. 17.

Snow. First cold spell of the season brought heavy snow to the Mount. The basketball courts and the hockey court are flooded.

Unscheduled Vacation. While Fr. Clifford Kossel (Ore.) is in the Hospital, and Fr. Morton (Ore.) is enroute from Toronto, the First Year men are having two weeks of straight holiday study.

Coaching. Mr. Angelo Musante is coaching St. Francis Xavier Grammar School in basketball. Mr. James Maher is coaching St. Patrick's.

Rector's Day. Messers. James Gallas, Gerald Sullivan, Robert Arrowsmith, William Stolz, Michael Saso, and Robert Maloney starred in Christopher Fry's Thor With Angels. Mr. Albert Jonsen assisted Mr. Vincent Sykes (New Orleans) with the direction. Producers utilized bulletin-board displays for two weeks preceding the play to provide a very complete pre-coverage of the play, the author, his techniques, his ideals, and other Fryana.

Aquinas Conference. Mr. Ken Galbraith (Ore.) and Mr. Edward O'Brien (Mo.) discussed "Literature and Morality" for the January session of the Conference.

NOVITIATE

Winery. Due to the recent rains, work on the roof of the new winery warehouse has been delayed for a number of days. Since the tarring of the outer timbers is practical only when they are completely dry, the amount of work daily accomplished is comparatively small. This is, however, the final stage of the operations, and it is now fairly certain that the building will be ready for use by the beginning of February.

The out-of-Province Theologians visited the Novitiate on December 26 for a tour of the Winery and grounds.

Holidays. Christmas holidays extended from December 23 to January 2, including the Novices' yearly Gaudiosa on the Feast of the Holy Innocents, Dec. 28.

Visitors. The past month witnessed a relatively greater number of arrivals and departures. Father James Strehl arrived on December 31 from Manresa. From January 9 to 14, Fr. Peter Newport made the Novitiate his first stop on a six-thousand mile tour of all the Houses in the Province. Father's work of extending and promoting the Apostleship of Prayer is meeting with great success and in the several talks which he gave to both Juniors and Novices Fr. Newport defined the ideals of the Apostleship, giving them fuller meaning by the application of his numerous experiences. Fr. Finbar, a Franciscan Friar from Santa Barbara, arrived on January 3. The purpose of Father's visit was to gather material for a doctorate thesis to be delivered to the Board of Regents of the University of Toronto on "The California Seminaries." On January 18, Fr. Ambrose Hanlon joined the community.

Departures. During the first part of the month, Fr. Neale Herrlich departed for Loyola High School and Fr. Thomas McKey left on a sales tour for the Winery which was scheduled to take him through the Northwest.

Scripture. On January 10, Fr. Cornelius Deeney resumed his Sunday-night talks to the Novices on Sacred Scripture.

Mr. Lorono. After many years of service as general foreman of the vineyards, Basilio Lorono was retired on January 16. His son-in-law, Seraphim (Bosco) Mendizabel, was promoted to Mr. Lorono's former position.

The Juniorate final examinations took place on January 12 and 13.

The monthly Casus was given on January 17 by Fr. William Donnelly of Alma.

———o———

PORT TOWNSEND

Activities. The Tertians made their winter Tridum, Jan. 13-16. Fr. Instructor (Leo Martin) gave the Triduum.

Fr. Adam Ellis (Mo.) stopped for a visit. He held a class in which the Tertians could ask solutions to problems in Canon Law.

Improvements. Several more of the Tertians' rooms are completed in their paint-jobs. Plans are afoot to paint the conference room.

The organ previously in the conference room has been repaired and replaces the smaller harmonium in the Chapel. Fr. John Wright (Ore.) repaired and cleaned it.

This year, the library has been greatly improved with a new reference table, shelf, file cabinet for pamphlets, new shelf and lighting facilities and the refurbishing of the woodwork and floors. Many new books are being added and old ones rebound.

SAN FRANCISCO

High School

Sodality. The Sodalists—thirty of them—sang Christmas carols at various of the hospitals and rest homes during Christmas week.

Thirty Sodalists recently completed an eight-weeks training course for the teaching of Christian Doctrine, through the Holy Family Sisters. They are now eligible to teach and assist in teaching Catechism throughout the parishes of the city.

The Sodalists have also undertaken to help out with the aged at Notre Dame Hospital. They help the old folks to and from Mass on Sundays, they read to the elderly people and help them to write their letters.

Sports. The SI Varsity has a good record this season and are regarded as favorites in the City League, despite their one loss to Mission High.

Mr. Ronald Armstrong, who brought his Freshman Football Team through an undefeated season, continues his good success with his 100's Basketball team.

Messers. William Thom and Thomas Draper, track coaches, welcomed 65 aspirants for this year's cinder squad.

University

Schola Cantorum. The Schola Cantorum presented a programme at the War Memorial. Local critics of all the papers were rich in their praise of the concert.

Alumni. About 700 attended the annual Alumni Banquet at the Fairmont Hotel. Fr. President (William Dunne) was the principal speaker of the occasion.

Church. The Church was robbed three times in a period of a few weeks. The robbers being surprised by the night watchman, came back a second time in one night. The poor boxes were the object of their pilfering.

Mr. Quinlan. Mr. Michael Quinlan, lay professor of Mathematics at USF for twenty-five years, died suddenly of a heart attack. He was annointed in the Hospital a few hours before he died.

Deo Gratias. Fr. Aloysius Stern received a beautiful chalice from a convert couple from Judaism. It was inscribed with a fitting text from the Old Testament. Father was recipient of a personal Christmas card from the Apostolic Delegate in Washington.

An article by Fr. George Lucy in the Labor-Management organ, "Panel," was reprinted in the "Catholic Mind." The article was entitled "Does the Social Gospel Need a Change."

Meetings. Fr. John McGloin

recently was elected to the Executive Council of the American Catholic Historical Assn.

Fr. John Coleman was selected to judge an essay contest of the Vision Conservation Institute.

The Loyola Guild held their annual rummage sale. Proceeds are for the high school and university scholarships.

SANTA CLARA

Lectures. Fr. President (Herman Hauck) spoke to the Kiwanis Club at Burlingame on December 22.

Fr. Roger McAuliffe spoke to the Archdiocesan Council of NCCM on Sunday, January 17, at Marin Catholic High School, on the subject of obscene literature.

Fr. Bernard Hubbard will give his only lecture at Santa Clara, sponsored by the International Relations Club, on February 4. Features of his lecture will be the showing of his most recent film, "In An Alaskan Fjord," and comments on the problem of Alaskan statehood.

Fr. Donovan conducted the December Triduum for the renovation of vows.

Travel. On January 2, Fr. Wilfred Crowley left for the NCAA meeting in Cincinnati, where he was re-elected to the Executive Council. He was also appointed to a committee on ethical practices in football.

From January 10 to 14, Fr. Hauck attended a meeting in Cincinnati for the Association of American Colleges. The theme of the meeting was "The Financing of Higher Education in America."

On January 19, Frs. Hauck, Joseph Martin, and Raymond Copeland met with the University Alumni Advisory Board in San Francisco.

On December 28 Frs. Hauck and James King lunched at the Bohemian Club with the Advisory Council of the School of Engineering.

Guests. Mr. Wilker, representative of Union Carbide Corporation, visited the University to consider the location of scholarships at Santa Clara.

During Christmas vacation guests at the University were Fr. Paul Luger of the Oregon Province, and Father Norman Martin who has recently returned to Mexico.

Community. On December 29, 130 Jesuits enjoyed the hospitality of Santa Clara's Christmas tree party.

Varia. On Sunday, January 17, Fr. Bock celebrated Mass in the Russian Rite in the Mission Church. Mr. Swain of Alma College explained the ceremonies.

Mr. Albert Wasel of the Mathematics Department, received an $8,000 research grant from the Air Force.

As an indication of resurgence of basketball interest in the Bay Area, the Varsity basketball games have broken attendance records for every game played in this area.

Fr. Schmidt. The membership of Fr. Schmidt's Youth Center is now 2138 young people.

PHOENIX

The twenty-fifth jubilee of the founding of the parish was observed on December 2. At 5:00 p.m. Solemn High Mass was celebrated in the presence of His Excellency Bishop Gercke by Fr. Marcos Cabrera, O.F.M. The other officers of the Mass were local diocesan priests. Rt. Rev. Msgr. Robert Donohue, a former student of Brophy Prep, preached the sermon. Following services in the church, His Excellency and the priests were our guests at dinner.

Fr. A. J. Monoghan (Upper Canada) and Fr. William J. McLoughlin (New York) have returned to their respective provinces after having greatly improved in health from their stay in Phoenix. The former is stationed at Loyola Retreat House near Toronto, the latter at Canisius College, Buffalo.

With the completion on December 28 of the new addition to the grammar school—five classrooms, four restrooms, and a nurse's room—Brophy Prep took over the entire lower corridor of the high school except for three classrooms. There are now sixteen classrooms for grammar school children. Total enrollment in our parish schools is 1152. The architect for the new convent has been chosen and is now at work on the plans. The building will be erected on the newly acquired eight acres east of the original property.

Despite frequent divisions of the parish, we still have more than 100 families. Last year there were 240 baptisms, almost 200 of them infants. Recent newcomers were three families who together number 32 souls. It is estimated that 1400 families a month are moving into Phoenix.

The help of several visiting priests Sunday, January 17, made history at St. Francis. It was the first time within memory that none of our priests had to binate in the church.
